Keelung Detention Center holds a cross-domain “Reversion and Transfer Business Coordination Meeting” to help inmates on the road to reintegration into society

On December 15th, Keelung Detention Center and Keelung Prison were linked to the Keelung Branch of the Taiwan After-Care Association, Keelung District Public Prosecutor’ s Office, the Drug Hazard Control Center of the Keelung City Health Bureau, Keelung Employment Center, the Libertas Education Foundation, and the Keelung Branch of the Christian Rehabilitation Fellowship, etc., organized the “Reversion and Transfer Business Coordination Meeting” for drug offenders in the Keelung region in the fourth quarter of 2021. Organize and cross-field cooperation, integrate social resources, and help drug offenders return to society smoothly.

The new generation anti-drug strategy 2.0 is an important policy. The Keelung Detention Center promotes the individualized treatment of drug users. With professional input from psychologists, social workers, and case managers, the psychosocial needs of drug users are assessed and counseled in the detention center. And the transfer of the post of the detention center to assist drug addicts to get rid of drug addiction and return to society as soon as possible. Furthermore, in response to the development and needs of modern society, the central authorities have also held social safety net meetings in counties and cities, and correction agencies are also part of it. Under the requirements of society for safety, the correction agency has not only limited to the function of solitary confinement, but also exerted the professional effectiveness of correction through imprisonment, precipitation, transformation, and reversion. It is hoped that this meeting will promote the cooperation and contact of cross-domain network units in Keelung to form a partnership. , Construct a social counseling model for drug abusers to return to society, keep rehabilitated persons away from drugs, and promote social harmony and live and work in peace and contentment.
